Call to action on new prostitutes problem

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE arrival of young sex workers of 'teenage age' in High Town has led to fears among residents who say the area has become a 'designated hub' for prostitution.

Matt Ryan, (pictured, far right) a resident in Old Bedford Road, has written a letter to Bedfordshire Police and Luton Borough Council asking what the authorities are doing to deter new prostitutes from moving into the area.

He is being supported by Shahzad Khadam, (pictured left) a shop keeper who said he is concerned about young sex workers he has seen in High Town in recent weeks.

The police, who are two years into a five-year anti-prostitution strategy, said they have seen 'significant improvements' in ending the trade.

In a joint statement with the council, the force said the 'crackdown' had resulted in a drop in complaints by residents and community tension.

However, some residents have said they are not convinced things are going to change for the better.

Mr Khadam said: "The new girls are teenagers and one of them I saw was quite short only about 5'2" and I am quite concerned about that. It's a vicious circle."

He added: "In the eyes of residents it's an important thing because we want a bit of peace. It seems High Town has been chosen to be a designated area for this and it's becoming a hub."

"I mentioned the new girls to the police and they said that they did not know where they are coming from. It's like someone said to me, whoever is behind it is running an academy and they get new ones in and the old ones out."

In his letter, Matt Ryan said: "High Town has become a processing hub/centre for street prostitution. If there is success in steering established women away from the area what does this mean to High Town and its residents when the gates are always open?"

"What is the strategy to stop new comers to the

SORT IT OUT: High Town residents are demanding local authorities take action after more sex workers have arrived area and to break the link High Town has been labelled with?"

Wendy Walker, a 65-year-old disabled pensioner, said some residents were becoming 'demoralised' by the situation.

She added: "We had a petition with 2,000 signatures and what people are saying is they are so concerned about it."

"You get kerb crawlers stopping and asking if you want business, even if you are a disabled, old pensioner or a pregnant woman."

A Bedfordshire Police spokeswoman said the force would be 'stepping up' its operation and would continue to work with other agencies.

She added: "The continued police presence has directly impacted the level of soliciting occurring in the area."

"The operation has also resulted in the detection of other criminality in High Town, including alcohol and drug-related crime and anti-social behaviour."

"However, we are aware that the issue has not gone away and some residents remain concerned."

"We want to reassure the community that we are committed to continuing to improve High Town and significantly reduce the problem."

"Our multi-agency approach aims to support women to leave sex work and to lead crime free, healthy and happy lives."

'Laughable' signs try to stop Muslims from voting

STICKERS claiming voting in the general election is anti-Islamic have been branded 'cowardly' by a Mosque youth leader.

A series of brightly coloured designs have been plastered on lamp-posts, signs and walls across Luton and Bedford, saying that 'voting for man-made law is Shirk associating with Allah'.

Shirk is the sin of worshipping someone other than Allah and is considered the biggest crime for a Muslim.

But instead of causing the 'stir' they may have expected, they have been described by Dawood Masood, a youth worker at Luton's Al-Hirah Mosque, as 'cowardly, laughable and uninformed'.

Mr Masood said: "These people are cowards putting stickers up without any context, as saying that voting on man-made law is anti-Islam is like saying you shouldn't wear glasses or clothes because they are man-made."

"I don't think that these unfounded comments will deter anyone from voting."

Gang waits to be sentenced over child rapes and sexual abuse

The seven faces of evil

BY JULIA SUTTON
 editor@lsnmedia.com

A COUNTRYWIDE gang of paedophiles is facing jail for the rape and assault of pre-school children and babies.

Among them is Bedfordshire man Robin Hollyson, who pleaded guilty to sexual assault and a number of rapes on a baby.

Prosecutor Robert Davies told the jury at Bristol Crown Court that five of the gang had pleaded guilty to a range of offences, including rape of a child and conspiracy to rape a child during 2013 and 2014.

He added: "This prosecution will take you into a world you wish did not exist. "The evidence exposes the shocking interest a group of men had in sexually abusing children and babies."

Christopher Knight, 35, of Manchester; Adam Toms, 33, of Somerset; David Harsley, 51, of Humberside and Matthew Lisk, 32, of Sussex, also entered guilty pleas for a range of offences.

Two of the men, John Denham, 49, of Wiltshire, also known as Benjamin Harrop, and Matthew Stansfield, 34, of Hampshire, denied the charges put to them, but they were found guilty by a jury on Wednesday.

Both were charged with conspiracy to rape a child under 13. Denham was found not guilty of conspiracy to rape but guilty of an alternative charge of conspiracy to sexually assault.

Stansfield was found guilty of two counts of conspiracy to rape the same boy.

The court heard none of the parents of the children involved had any idea their sons were being abused.

The group were arrested between September 11 - 25, 2014, after police used IP addresses to track Hollyson.

The men would connect to the 'dark web' - a secret untraceable internet - and used Skype and other video conferencing software to meet up online, the court was told.

All seven are expected to be sentenced in June.

Jail for man who made thousands from steroids

A MAN who made thousands selling illegal steroids has been jailed for two years.

Officers discovered a haul of the body-building and performance-enhancing drugs at the home of Parbez Ahmed, 23, in Paisley Close, Luton, when he was arrested for an unconnected offence on May 21, last year.

Along with the large quantity of steroids - packaging material, lists of customers and accounts for the business were recovered.

He was jailed at Luton Crown Court. Investigations showed he used health and fitness forums and blog sites online to advertise the drugs which he supplied across the UK.

Further enquiries revealed more than £100,000 had passed through his bank account and that of his partner, Sophia Camburn, 20, in the form of PayPal transactions and money transfers.

Ahmed pleaded guilty to being concerned in the supply of class C drugs and money laundering.

Camburn admitted the offence of money laundering and was sentenced to a 12-month community order with supervision.

She was also given a two-month curfew between 7pm and 6am and ordered to attend the Stepping Stones Project.

Detective Constable Ian Williams, from Bedfordshire Police, said: "Ahmed was making a large amount of cash from the illegal supply of steroids.

"There has been an increase in the use of steroids by both women and men who are looking for a short cut to looking good - but they are incredibly dangerous and pose serious risks to health and also the risk of addiction."

newsbriefsLUXURY GOODS COME TO DUTY FREE

A NEW duty free store selling goods by brands such as Chanel, Tom Ford and Burberry is set to open at Luton Airport later this year.

The airport has appointed LS travel retail UK & Ireland to operate a new 1,700 sq m walk-through shop which will be joined by three other shops opening in at the site.

MORE FUNDS FOR SUPPORT GROUP

A PILOT group aiming to help homeless youngsters in Luton has been given another six months' worth of funding by Luton Borough Council.

Relate Bedfordshire & Luton has been awarded the funding to continue its mental health clinic for young homeless people at the TOKKO youth space, Luton.

The group has been providing counselling for young people since 2013 but it was only in November last year that it was able to start a pilot for young people who are homeless or at risk of becoming homeless.

REPORT ON OFFENDER DAVID PECK

LAST week, Luton on Sunday reported a 63-year-old man had been jailed after sexually assaulting a child between July 2012 and July 2014.

We would like to make it clear that the address of David Peck, the man found guilty, was given in court as Flintergill Court, Healds in Milton Keynes.

Cabbies hit back

HACKNEY Carriage drivers have hit back at demands made by private hire drivers to share the same privileges.

Private hire drivers went on strike last week, making their demands of Luton Borough Council outside Town Hall.

Explaining why they were busy serving customers instead, Waqaas Mohuyddin, chairman of the Luton Hackney Carriage Association, said: "Private hire vehicles and Hackney Carriages have their own associations, they're totally different trades and entities."

On the demands, Mr Mohuyddin said: "Having cars which can use bus lanes are what Hackneys are for and I'm not sure why they're asking for a drop-off grace period, or else everyone would be asking."

He added: "Most private hire companies use people registered in other towns."

"I want people registered in Luton to get the Luton trade."

'Miracle' tot potty ready in 5 months

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A FIVE-month-old baby who is too young to walk has not used his nappy for eight weeks because he has potty-trained himself.

Little Alexander Oniciuc, who is starting to talk, shouts to mum Raluca and dad Finn who have learned to recognise his call.

The couple say that Alex, born at 38 weeks after a planned C-section at Luton & Dunstable Hospital, is now following in the footsteps of his older sister Izabella, now three, who learned to go it alone aged just six months.

NHS parenting guidelines say most toddlers should be potty trained by the age of three, although it usually takes them a year longer.

Raluca, who runs an online design business, said: "I know everyone says 'they grow up so fast', but this is getting ridiculous. I think he's already had enough of being a baby."

"We're saving a fortune on nappies. I still buy them, but use one a day – just in case.

"He's not had any accidents for months now. He's my little miracle. Apparently, boys develop slower than girls, but Alex seems to be learning faster than his big sister."

Raluca's pregnancy with Izabella was incident-free but with Alex she developed gestational diabetes at 24 weeks where there is too much glucose in the blood.

She recalled: "It was horrible. I spent the whole time paranoid I was going to miscarry or Alex would arrive stillborn."

"I was put on a special diet, medication and insulin injections too."

Like Izabella, Raluca said Alex would scream when he needed the loo but at five months old he completely stopped going unless she lifted him onto a potty.

She added: "I've even tried to ignore Alex when he starts making noises for me to take him to the potty in the hope he'll just go in his nappy, just to give me something to do."

"But he literally won't go unless I take him. It's incredible really."

Schools in line for £6.7m expansion

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

PROPOSALS to spend more than six million pounds expanding two primary schools are set to be discussed at a council meeting tomorrow evening.

An increase in demand for school places means that Luton Borough Council wants to boost capacity at Richmond Hill School and Wigmore Primary School.

Richmond, a special school for children aged 4-11 with severe learning disabilities, will expand from 120 to 230 places, with Wigmore going from 450 to 630.

In a report, the council said demand across the town was 'high' and that some children were unable to secure places in their local schools.

It said the number of pupils at Richmond had grown by 61 per cent in the last six years, while Wigmore had to meet growing demand in the east of the town.

Under the scheme, £5m will be spent on a new two-storey building with 14 classrooms for Richmond pupils on land at Wigmore. The school will then operate from the new facility as well as its existing site in Sunridge Avenue.

Jill Miller, headteacher at Richmond, said the plans were 'exciting'.

She said: "For me it's almost like really old news because it has taken 18-months to get to this point."

"It's exciting to be in the position of having a new school being built, which in effect it is, and to continue the work we have been doing at Richmond."

"The current site is a hotchpot of an extension upon extension upon extension and it has been great to work with the architects on the plans."

The council will spend £1.75m building a one-storey expansion to the existing Wigmore Primary which will have nine classrooms, as well as other new facilities.

Chris Davidson, headteacher at Wigmore, said: "We are excited about the prospect of expanding in size and getting a rebuild."

"The expansion is not going to be the whole school but we have had some pupils in huts in the past and it's fantastic for us because it means that all our children will be housed in the main building now."

"The school has improved and the new build should be a really good looking facility. That's not to say it's not nice at the moment, but it will look nicer."

Councillors have been recommended to pass the proposals and if they are agreed, the work at both sites is expected to be completed by September 2016.

Fans back relocation plan

LAST weekend Hatters' chairman Gary Sweet announced that plans are in motion to see Luton Town Football Club move to a new stadium.

While the location of the new ground remains tightly under wraps, the response from fans has been overwhelmingly positive.

In a Luton on Sunday poll, 84 per cent of voters want to see the club leave the historic Kenilworth Road ground, which it has called home for 110 years.

Tony Murray, chairman of Trust in Luton, the supporters' group, said: "We support the club's plans 100 per cent and this is the closest we have ever come to getting a new ground."

The club has been working closely on the plans with Luton Borough Council, which said: "A move to a new stadium is a long held aspiration for the club, supporters, the council and the town."

Prison for man who watched friend die

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A MAN who saw his friend bleed to death in Marsh Farm was jailed for 14 months on Thursday.

Luke Holland, 26, pleaded guilty to a series of crimes committed between July 2013 and April last year after he had witnessed the murder of Jordan Maguire in May 2013.

Holland, of Denham Close,

Luton, pleaded guilty to attempted burglary, two charges of theft, two of destroying property and one of driving while disqualified. He had previous convictions for dishonesty and drug offences.

Andrew Kerry, defending, said he had been diagnosed with a personality disorder and a bi-polar condition.

He asked for full credit for Holland's guilty pleas.

Holland himself addressed the judge via a video link from Woodhill Prison in Milton Keynes.

On the attempted burglary, he said: "I am ashamed of myself. I was a complete and utter idiot."

At the time of the first offences he said he had been distressed after the death of Mr Maguire.

He said he is now intent on becoming a stable family man.

Judge Michael Kay QC also banned him from driving for 18 months.

Parking costs rise will boost facilities

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A RISE in the cost of town centre parking will help pay for improved facilities and is 'reflective' of the cost of running them, the Mall has said.

Mark Broadhead, who manages the shopping centre, said car parking costs at its main site have increased for the first time since 2008 because the centre could not hold them at the previous price any longer.

Parking at the main facility has risen from £1 an hour to £1.50 an hour, while the library car park has also risen by the same amount.

Mr Broadhead said: "A lot of things in the world and things related to car parking have increased exponentially."

"We have been holding and holding but we have to do this. We are looking at making the facility better this year but some of the prices have to be reflective of what it costs to run a car park."

A spokeswoman for The Mall added that the centre would be reducing its carbon footprint by closing two of its car parks overnight between 10pm and 6am.

She added: "The library facility will still be open 24 hours a day. Closing Market and Central should enable us to reduce electricity consumption in these areas by up to a third. Over the last few years The Mall has invested heavily in our customer car parks."

"Tariffs have not risen since 2008, however to continue with our planned programme of investment there will be an increase in parking from April 13."

Right up your street

THE latest in Howard Chandler's series of how our streets got their names...

WHAT do Olympic Close in Marsh Farm and Angel Close in Leagrave have in common?

They were both named by competition winners.

Olympic Close was chosen by Wauluds School pupils in Marsh Farm in early 1976.

They obviously had the Olympics, held that year in Montreal, Canada, in mind. Were you in the class that named it? Did you suggest the name Olympic or was your suggestion not selected?

I am pleased to say that people are getting in touch with new information for me as a result of these articles. Murray Gallagher wrote to tell me that Angel Close was named by a lady who won a competition on a local radio programme.

Her prize was the right to name a new street in the area being redeveloped around the old Electroflux factory. She decided to call it 'Angel' after her daughter. This happened sometime around the year 2000. I wonder what question she had to answer to win the competition.

UKIP LUTON

Supporting Social Care

The good news is we are now living longer. The bad news is this is causing a crisis in elderly care. We will bring health and social care together under the control of the NHS

Supporting Social Carers

According to Age UK, 900,000 people between the ages of 65 and 89 have social care needs that are not met. UKIP will improve the standards throughout healthcare

Protecting Rights of All Citizens

UKIP is fully committed to protecting the rights of disabled people, as set out in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities

We Will Scrap ATOS

We will abolish the dreadful ATOS-style Work Capability Assessments which have caused so much distress to people who have enough hardship already in their lives

WE WILL FUND PEOPLE CARE

SOCIAL CARE

The coalition cuts went deep. UKIP will increase social care funding by £1.2 billion each year, phasing in this increase over a two-year period, to bring investment back to 2010 levels and pay for the additional residential, nursing and home care services that are so desperately needed.

Funding Crisis

The good news is we are living longer. The bad news is this is causing a crisis in elderly care.

UKIP 2015 MANIFESTO > PAGE 18

BELIEVE in BRITAIN

UKIP believes the elderly and vulnerable must be treated with compassion and dignity. We will introduce a legally binding 'Dignity Code' to improve standards of care and abolish the practice of arranging fifteen minute home care visits. We will protect Meals on Wheels.

For the first time in 100 years there is a real change on the horizon. All you have to do is vote for it

UKIP SUPPORTS CARERS TOO

WELFARE AND DISABILITY

"Circumstances can conspire against any one of us to leave us unemployed, seriously ill and unable to work, perhaps even facing bankruptcy and homelessness. UKIP is fully committed to maintaining a strong and supportive safety net for those who fall on hard times, whether through any fault of their own or not."

We wholly endorse the right of the disabled to access in-home residential and community support service through a fair and fit-for-purpose welfare system. For the millions who give up work or reduce their hours, we will recognise your huge contribution to our society.

There is a change on the horizon. All you have to do is vote for it..

On May 7th we can choose to replace the current dysfunctional system that has failed so many in the past.

All you have to do is vote for it..

We will remove over-paid spin doctors with qualified front line medical staff who understand patient needs.

Furthermore we will increase carer allowance.

your letters

All aboard thanks to LoS!

A FEW weeks ago you were the only paper that printed an article saying a new fleet of Arriva buses will be named after Luton Legends.

Nominations were asked for and I am happy to say my son, David Bootsie Bartlett, is named on one. He has been an employee for 45 years at Arriva, and is also a great bus enthusiast.

On Friday, April 10, these buses were on display on Market Hill in Luton.

Arriva were wonderful. We had a lovely time viewing and sitting on the buses and generally enjoying a day full of nostalgia and memories.

I thought you would like to know the outcome of your story - thank you so much.

Too many patients for GPs

I WRITE in response to a recent article about the serious shortage of GPs in Bedfordshire due to doctors retiring early, going overseas or working part time.

The primary reason being the intense pressures GPs face in their everyday work, made worse by the fact that around half their time on duty is away from patients.

Probably the single most important reason for this situation, which also affects health costs, recruitment and standards of care, is the ever rising number of patients that doctors and hospital staff have to cope with.

A contract with the public

IT is my belief that councilors should be held legally responsible when spending taxpayers' money, be it rates or government grants.

If it is found that the best value for money was not obtained, be it for any service or contract negotiated or agreed by members of the council, there should be consequences.

It does appear that over the past few years several instances have occurred where projects have been instigated and, at a later date, reversed or retracted to an original idea.

I also believe all contracts should be available for public scrutiny prior to signing.

What do you think? Email editor@ltnmedia.co.uk

The population of the UK is rising by 300,000 a year due primarily to uncontrolled immigration. This means we will have another city the size of Birmingham every 2-3 years.

How many extra GPs, nurses, dentists and paramedics will be needed to provide for these additional people? It is all about numbers - more medical staff and far fewer potential patients.

It's a matter of simple arithmetic.

LET'S face it. The politicians who want to get their grubby mitts on running our country, are all rats. None of them are worthy of

Tackling breast cancer

MORE action is urgently needed to overcome breast cancer.

I have a personal interest in tackling this disease and I think my future MP needs to make it a priority because women deserve to be given every chance possible to beat this disease, it has an enormous effect on the person and their families so the more that is available to beat this, the better chance women have of beating it. Every year, around 18 women in my constituency alone die from secondary breast cancer - which is 12,000 women dying from this disease across the UK annually.

We can't afford not to act.

Breast Cancer Campaign and Breakthrough Breast Cancer have launched their new joint Stop Women Dying campaign to encourage parliamentary candidates to become Breast Cancer Ambassadors, if elected this May.

I would encourage others to join me and add their support to the campaign by visiting breastcancercampaign.org/election

Paying out for scruffy town

LUTON Borough Council appears to be doing a headless chicken act in its desperation to find ways to raise funds to cover their recent disastrous adventures with our money.

At the same time many of us are appalled at the increasingly scruffy state of our town. So I have a suggestion to help out on both fronts.

C'mon LBC, blaze a trail that's good for all of us; and make up for some of your profligacy that we're all having to pay for through our increased council tax.

Pair who left victim scarred get 13 years

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

TWO young thugs who robbed a boy and left him scarred for life have been locked up a for a total of 13 years.

Their victim was stabbed in the face by one of them, who had armed himself with a chisel.

On Tuesday the jury at Luton Crown Court heard that the teenager who inflicted the injury to the boy's nose, James Shepherd (left), was ordered to be detained in a young offenders' institution for eight years.

His accomplice Jordan Mitchell (right), who hadn't been armed, received a five year term.

Both defendants were 17 when they carried out the robbery last March, but this week the court heard they have now turned 18.

They appeared for sentence last Thursday having been found guilty earlier of robbing the boy of his mobile phone.

Shepherd, of Arrow Close in Luton, was also convicted of wounding with intent to commit grievous bodily harm.

In addition to being convicted of the robbery, Mitchell, also of Arrow Close, was convicted of assault occasioning actual bodily harm and common assault on a second youth.

Judge Richard Foster was told how in the early hours of March 9 last year the victim, who can't be named, and some friends were in Bramingham Park, Luton, when they were approached by the two defendants who were out looking for trouble.

Shepherd was armed with a chisel which his friend was aware of.

The pair ended up chasing the young boys into a nearby cul de sac.

The court heard how the victim had stood up to the defendants refusing to hand over his mobile phone.

He was attacked by the pair before Shepherd stabbed him in the area of his nose.

Passing sentence, Judge Foster said the victim had shown "considerable bravery" in standing up to the pair.

Marathon runner to repay his debt

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

AFTER not completing it two years ago due to illness, a man is taking on the London Marathon to raise money for a charity that helped him in his hour of need.

Nick Gill, a journalist from Luton, is taking on the challenge today after falling at the 18 mile mark when he attempted the race in 2013 due to dehydration.

Mr Gill said: "My training had gone really well but it was a particularly cold winter and I didn't react to the hotter temperature for the race – so it definitely is a lesson learned."

After he collapsed, Mr Gill was taken to the medical tent by St John's Ambulance volunteers, where paramedics working for the charity helped him recover, by cooling him down and helping him take on fluids.

He added: "Collapsing in 2013 was a scary experience. "Before paramedics were able to cool me down my temperature was at a dangerously high level – around 40C – and I'm just so thankful to everyone from the St John's Ambulance who looked after me."

He is using this race as a chance to finally complete a marathon, but is also raising money for the charity who helped him in his hour of need back in 2013.

"After a year off I decided to give it another go as on a personal level running a marathon is something I've always wanted to do. But returning to London is also a way of saying thank you to a charity that saves lives on a daily basis."

On his training so far for the event, he said: "I started around six months ago and have gradually been running more and more."

"I've recently done two 20 mile runs having built up the distance over the recent months."

"I'm feeling good about it, I'm feeling as good as I possibly can and I'm feeling very well prepared."

When in the medical tent two years ago Mr Gill vowed never to take on the London Marathon again, but he's now giving it another shot.

He said: "I thought I'd never give it a go again after 2013, but things change."

"I've taken a year off and am ready to give it a go again."

"The weather for training has been a bit warmer this time around but, whatever the temperature on the day, I'm aiming to do it in around four hours but I'll slow down a bit if it's a hot day."

"I won't be making the same mistake again as I did before as I'm desperate to get my hands on that medal this time around."

Keep your postal vote safe

Voting by post is an easy and convenient way of voting if you are unable to get to your polling station on the day of an election. But remember, your postal vote is for you, and nobody else.

- As soon as you get your postal voting papers, put them somewhere safe where nobody else can pick them up
- Complete your ballot paper in secret, on your own
- Don't let anyone else vote for you
- Put your ballot paper and postal voting statement in the envelopes provided, and seal them personally
- Take your sealed postal vote to a post box yourself, if you can. Alternatively, give it only to someone you know and trust to post it for you.

For more advice and information about voting by post, go to www.luton.gov.uk/elections.

InterviewLuton

THERE are many reasons people cross borders and settle overseas.

Some are driven by a sense of adventure and the need to experience something new, while others are forced by circumstances beyond their control.

For Irina Bucsa, it was a passion for the English language and a chance to study at the University of Bedfordshire that saw her leave her native Romania six years ago and travel over 1,500 miles to Luton.

Growing up, the 25-year-old loved English literature and devoured the works of authors such as Jane Austen, and Lord Byron.

She grew up in the 'picturesque' town Piatra Neam in north-east Romania, with her older brother and parents, spending most of her time enjoying the outdoors. "It's a small town, idyllic really. It's actually one of the most beautiful towns in Romania", she says. "Romania has truly outstanding places and tourist attractions, it's a beautiful country and my town is one of the best."

"It's surrounded by mountains and lakes and very modern at the same time - it's a great place to visit."

CARL MUNGAZI is on a mission to uncover the hidden stories of Luton. His aim: to interview at least one person from every nationality represented in the town.

How was her education?

She says: "School was great, actually! One of the main reasons I came to England is because in high school I felt a passion for the English language and culture. I studied grammar, read many books and was very passionate about it. "After finishing high school I was given the opportunity to apply to come and study in the UK, and that's how it all started."

Irina's chance came in the shape of a friend who was studying abroad who told her she could do the same.

She applied via an agency to five universities but chose Bedfordshire after hearing good things about its Media Studies programme.

What were her first impressions of the UK?

"I liked it. I was actually truly speaking English left and right and it was a bit odd that I wasn't speaking my own language, but I think I got accustomed to it quite quickly."

And Luton?

"When I went to university, it was such a multicultural environment, I made friends from lots of different parts of the world and it was really exciting to meet so many new people from different cultures."

Within less than two months of arriving, Irina found a part-time job at a local Domino's franchise, where she has since risen from being a customer service representative to becoming its marketing manager. She graduated in

PASSIONATE: Irina said she enjoyed university as she was meeting people from different countries

2012 with first class honours in her Advertising & Marketing Communications degree, and was offered the chance to do a masters free of the charge at the same university which she finished in 2014.

What did she learn? "It was great", she says. "I learned a lot of exciting things. It's quite different from education in Romania because there it is a bit more theoretical and here it's much more applied."

"I remember as part of one of the modules in my third year, we actually had to go to present a campaign at a creative agency in London, so we were actually right there in the middle of it all and that was brilliant; I think it was one of the greatest experiences I had at university."

Irina spends her days working across more than ten Domino's outlets from Luton to Birmingham, tackling a lot of community initiatives; something she says are close to her heart.

She received an award on Monday for leading a team at Domino's who raised £20,000 for the Alma Bi Hospital in Pakistan.

They helped to organise a four-day eye camp at the hospital in 2014 where thousands were treated for eye-related problems, with some regaining their vision through cataract operations. She says: "In my position, I've got a lot of opportunities to help others and to give back to the community, and I love doing that."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

CIRCUS

Hat Factory

May 7, 7.30pm - 8.30pm

WHAT happens when three guys who between them do breakdancing, parkour and tricking (martial arts mixed with acrobatics) come together? They start their own circus troupe, of course.

Well, things were not so clear for Beren D'Amico, Charlie Wheeler and Louis Gift when they first met four years ago at the National Centre for Circus Arts.

At the time, they were all engrossed in their individual disciplines until the similarities between the different arts brought them together.

In the final year of their studies they won funding from Deutsche Bank for a business idea they had to pitch as part of an assignment.

With that money the trio started their circus company Barely Methodical Troupe and have since gone on to perform at events such as the Edinburgh Fringe Festival and the Adelaide Fringe Festival.

They will be bringing their award-winning show, entitled Bromance, to Luton, a show about friendship and how it develops over a period of time.

So what is group all about?

Beren said: "The company is our main focus now and luckily for us, we are doing what we wanted to do when we started, which is to have our own contemporary circus company."

"We have been abroad and we are doing things we want to be doing. Creating the theme for the show was harder than creating the moves."

"I think that from our three years of doing the degree, we have had our moves set since graduation. We racked our brains and thought we were too young to make it difficult or political, so we thought we'd make something that we can relate to because we are three guys."

The group has a packed touring schedule over the next few months, with 16 performances in May as well as an appearance in Brazil penned in for June.

Beren said they spend up to five hours a day training and perfecting their moves when they are not on tour, including a few moves he said have a 'degree of risk'.

What can people who watch the show expect?

He said: "A lot of people have a preconceived image of what a circus is, with all the traditional stuff, but we are more set in the theatre and it's a lot of physical theatre."

"We have a narrative the audience can follow and engage with. It's like a new twist on the circus."

"We have found that it's been well received and we've won awards at Edinburgh and Adelaide."

"When we performed in Edinburgh it was more like a rough performance but in Adelaide it was more ready and polished."

Tickets cost £10 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01582 878100.

You can also buy them online by visiting lutonculture.com

Jazz duo are ready to get the crowd up and singing along

MUSIC

KONNI DEPPE MEETS SIMON WALLACE

The Bear Club

Thursday, 7.30pm

THE title of Thursday's event at Luton's premier jazz venue maybe Konni Deppe meets Simon Wallace, but the event will not be the first time the two have met.

Luton-based Konni, a vocalist with years of experience behind her, first bumped into Simon, one of the UK's finest jazz pianists, during a jam session in Soho many years ago where he complimented her vocal ability.

The two became friends and get together every now and again when circumstances allow, as will be case this week when they perform songs by writer Kurt Weill, American composer Dave Frishberg, and a whole host of other jazz material.

Konni said: "It's going to be a piano and vocal duo, so it's quite an intimate setting and it will be such a chilled thing to do on a Thursday. Jazz is so different and I think there are lot of similarities to my work as a web editor because in both things you try to find the best solution or the most genuine answer to something."

"I work a lot with content and I try to help people edit their content for their users. You don't want to lie to yourself and I find in music you also do the same thing."

The 40-year-old, who has also performed outside the UK, has been singing since her teenage years after falling in love with jazz, a passion she hopes to share with audience.

She added: "In the UK people understand more what you sing and I find that they sing along with you more often than other places."

Tickets cost £5 and can be purchased on the door.

Celebration of wartime song

SHOW

WE'LL MEET AGAIN

Grove Theatre, Dunstable

Wednesday May 6

CELEBRATING almost 70 years to the day since the end of the Second World War, Duggie Chapman MBE is bringing his 1940s cavalcade on a tour of the country.

The performance is based all around the entertainment of the time, with contemporary comedians and singers paying tribute to the big names of the war era.

Comedy entertainer Steve Barclay will be bringing his repertoire of impressions of some of the era's finest comedians.

Paying tribute to George Formby is Andy Eastwood, who was the first ever Oxford music graduate to perform his degree recital on a ukulele.

On the appeal of the show, Mr Eastwood said: "They're just wonderful songs."

"With morale so low during the war the entertainers of the time did a great job in creating uplifting music."

"Some of the audience will actually remember the songs, while for others it will be a whole new experience."

Mr Eastwood added: "We've always enjoyed performing in Dunstable."

"We always get a great reception there and The Grove is a great theatre to perform in."

"What's more, we're performing there just two days before the 70th anniversary of VE Day."

West End star Maggie O'Hara will be bringing the songs of Vera Lynn, Gracie Fields and Anne Shelton to the stage and wartime entertainment to the 21st century.

With a full supporting cast including singer Mervyn Francis and special guest comedian and multi-instrumentalist, Pete Lindup, this show is packed with real variety.

Backing music will also be provided by the Martyn St James Band.

Tickets are available for £12.50 from the theatre's box office.

A £1.50 transaction fee will be added to online and telephone bookings.

Comer is Lord of the bodhrán rhythm but dancing master's plot leaves a lot to be desired

REVIEW

LORD OF THE DANCE
Milton Keynes Theatre
Today, 2.30pm and 8pm

GENUINELY keen to learn more about Irish culture and see up-close the faster-than-flying footwork I'd admired as a child, the show's endless intro of increasingly bizarre projections came as a something of a shock.

Michael Flatley's 'Lord of the Dance: Dangerous Games' and team of world-class dancers sold out glamorous cities all over the world and 'wowed' audiences in the West End. As the audience at Milton Keynes Theatre was reminded. Relentlessly, with deafening voiceover. For ten minutes.

The show kicks off with a strange projection of an enormous devilish face cackling at 'Little Spirit' - an eye-wateringly flexible sprite in a felt dinosaur jumpsuit.

This formed the basis of the show's plot: a battle between good and evil fought with a tin whistle, beat-dropping robots and Irish dancing.

Flatley's dancers, at least, lived up to the hype. The master himself didn't make an appearance on the Milton Keynes Theatre stage but his dedicated dance company hardly need babysitting.

The Lord of the Dance is Morgan Comer, a world champion dancer who learnt the trade in Belfast, hand-picked for the lead role by Flatley himself.

Comer is a vivacious lead who pilots his dancing troupe with energy and character. His talented team tap and twirl at blinding speed and at times The Lord of the Dance runs the risk of being de-throned by his own backing dancers.

It is a shame Flatley chose to backdrop his show with distracting and creepy projections, ranging from unicorns munching on colourful daisies to flying strings of red celtic knots.

They only served to bolster the show's weird feel and sterile, disjointed storyline.

Watching some of the world's best traditional Irish dancers thrum to the bodhrán beat in perfect time was a pleasure but the show's roadshow structure was, for me, excruciating.

Some may have found the dancers' plastic smiles, nailed in place for two straight hours, welcoming. I found them terrifying.

Still, the performance literally raised the ceiling - MK Theatre normally lowers its ceilings for this type of production. But hardcore Flatley fans turned out in their droves and I can only presume they were there for the quality traditional dancing, not for saucy dance sequences with Comer and his troupe stripping off their Celtic outfits.

Dance sequences were broken up by electric performances from two violinists and singer 'Erin the goddess', played by Rachael O' Connor, made up for the musical's bland lyrics with enthusiasm but the overall effect was that of a Eurovision song contest power ballad: England, 18 points, 32nd place.

Lord of the Dance takes to the Milton Keynes stage for its final shows today, with performances at both 2.30pm and 8pm.

INDIVIDUALISE

Departure Lounge, Luton
Today

THE town's exhibition gallery opens its doors today to a new photographic display showcasing works by students.

In recent times the Departure Lounge Gallery, in King Street, has hosted works by local artists but this time round its featuring long-term projects created by 20 students from the University of Hertfordshire.

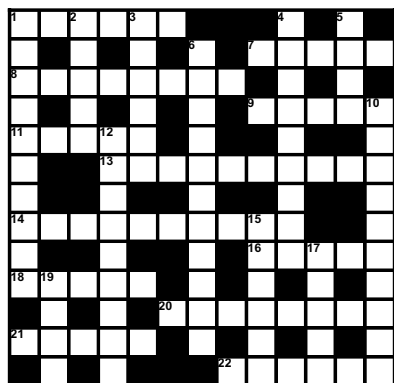

The exhibition is free to enter and will include work that touches upon a wide range of subjects such as landscape, fashion, automotive, conceptual and narrative photography.

Pablo Medellin, one of the exhibiting students, said: "The build up to this exhibition has been very intense as we've all been so focused on our projects. But it's extremely exciting to see all of our work now ready to be exhibited."

"I cannot wait to show people what I'm so passionate about."

It is open from 11am-6pm.

PRESS RELEASE

MARCH 2015

Do your research on letting agents advises Connells

Local estate agency Connells in Luton is urging both landlords and tenants to pick their letting agents wisely, before entering into an agreement that may not provide the protection you require.

"It is vital that both tenants and landlords do some research into the letting agent they are putting their trust into before they sign an agreement or hand any money over," says Justin Walters, Lettings Manager at Connells Luton. After the Government's announcement that retiree's are now able to access a greater proportion of their pension annuity, some aspiring investors may turn their focus to buy-to-let property. With this in mind, Connells believes that now is an extremely important time for anybody thinking of letting a property to be aware of the correct and current procedures to ensure you are gaining the best possible return from your property and have the right tenants to match your needs.

"There may be an influx of novice landlords over the next few months because of the recent pension changes. Therefore we believe it is vitally important that landlords understand the importance of their letting agent being transparent about the fees they charge and how they are regulated," says.

"Here at Connells we are a member of the Association of Residential Letting Agents (ARLA) which is the leading regulatory letting body in the UK. We also hold our tenant's deposits in the Tenant Deposit Scheme which offers security to both landlords and tenants when the tenancy comes to an end. The services we offer as a letting agent are exactly the type of procedures agents should be providing to protect their customers and it is imperative that whether you are a tenant or landlord you do your research into this before rushing into instructing an agent or letting a house from them," Justin finishes.

For more information on the local property market visit your local Connells branch at Luton or call 01582 840999.

Orders open in the UK for VW's new Golf Estates

UK order books have opened for Volkswagen's trio of hot Golf Estates – the Golf R and GTD Estates and the Golf Alltrack – ahead of first deliveries in August.

The R and GTD Estates boast all the attributes of their popular hatchback counterparts, with like for like trims, but bootspace is increased from 380 litres to 605 litres – and up to 1,620 litres when the rear seats are folded flat. Power outputs range from 110 PS in Alltrack which is available with three engines, through 184 PS in the GTD to 300 PS in the range-topping R model. The Alltrack and the R Estate also gain 4MOTION four-wheel drive.

Like the Golf R hatch, the Golf R Estate is powered by a 2.0-litre four-cylinder turbocharged TSI petrol engine. Maximum power is 300 PS from 5,500 to 6,200 rpm while maximum torque of 380 Nm is available from 1,800 up to 5,500 rpm. In this new car, standstill to 50 mph takes just 3.8 seconds and top speed is electronically limited to 155 mph.

ORDER BOOKS OPEN: First deliveries of new VW Golf Estates in August

Style and spec-wise, the Golf R Estate follows all the cues of its hatchback sibling, though the Estate is only available with a six-speed DSG gearbox.

The Golf GTD Estate is, quite simply, a booted version of Volkswagen's iconic long-distance sports cruiser. The new estate model has at its heart a 2.0-litre common rail TDI engine which produces 184 PS from 3,500 to 4,000 rpm. Maximum torque is 280 Nm from 2,500 to 5,000 rpm. The benchmark 0 to 62 mph sprint takes 7.9 seconds, with a top speed of 143 mph. Yet the Golf GTD Estate lives up to its benchmark economy, returning 64.2 mpg on the combined cycle, with CO2 emissions of just 115 g/km. A six-speed manual gearbox is standard, while a six-speed DSG version is available at £1,415.

The Golf Alltrack follows in the footsteps of the Passat Alltrack which first went on sale in the UK in 2012 and closes the gap between the on- and off-road worlds, both visually and technically. It features a standard 4MOTION all-wheel drive system, off-road driving profile, higher ground clearance, and is styled to match its off-road credentials with flared wheelarches and side sills for added protection, as well as newly designed bumpers. Three engines are available for UK customers. These comprise a 1.6-litre TDI 110 PS, 2.0-litre TDI 150 PS and 2.0-litre TDI 184 PS.

Toyota Yaris

Take a look inside . . .

The Toyota Yaris has been Europeanised with sharper styling, a better quality interior, retuned suspension, better refinement and tweaks to improve efficiency across the board. What was already a class act has just become genuinely hard to overlook.

With most facelifts, the driving dynamics are left well alone. Not here. Customers had commented that the interior refinement of the Yaris wasn't among the better superminis, so Toyota has acted decisively, stiffening the body, fitting a revised torsion beam rear suspension, improving steering response, changing the springs and dampers for better body control, adding better soundproofing material, fettling the diesel engine and altering the aerodynamics to reduce wind noise.

Four engines are available. The quieter 1.4-litre diesel, a hybrid that now features better fuel economy, and two petrol engines. The 1.33 petrol engine's exhaust system is now better insulated and the three-cylinder 1.0-litre powerplant has had a lot of budget thrown at it. Performance is better and noise and vibration have been cut. Significant reduction in frictional losses has also brought this engine's emissions down below 100g/km.

The Yaris takes its styling influence from the second generation Aygo citycar, with the X-shaped frontal graphic giving it a far sharper look. It's now a more assertive-looking design and Europeans like that. The interior has also come in for a restyle, with a narrower upper instrument panel, a sleeker door panel and a centre console that's been raised by 23mm so that the length of the gear lever can be reduced by 30mm, improving the ergonomics of gear changes. The Toyota Yaris was one of those cars that grew on you. It didn't have the force of personality to impress you with sheer showroom wow factor. The latest model ups its game quite markedly in that regard. Don't for one moment think that Toyota has given into superficiality, favouring style over substance. This is far more than just a cosmetic makeover, with a retuned chassis, improved refinement, better handling and ride and superior efficiency measures across the board.

- Sharp European styling
- Four engine types
- Improved steering
- Better soundproofing
- Better body control

SOUTHEND UNITED
LUTON TOWN

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

IT shouldn't have ended like this but an Elliot Justham 81st minute howler has all but killed Luton Town's play-off dreams. Who'd be a goalkeeper?

The 24-year-old penned a new two-year contract on Thursday and, after such an exemplary run in the team – deputising for Mark Tyler – this was no kind of reward. It was not kind at all.

This crushing defeat against ten-man Southend United came as the Hatters snapper let a harmless long range Michael Timlin shot through his legs.

Manager John Still said: "Unfortunately a young man, that has come into the team and done remarkably well, has made a mistake. That's all part and parcel of football.

"We felt we did everything right, but games sometimes hinge on one moment of magic or one mistake and unfortunately it was one mistake today.

"That defines your career sometimes. He's made a mistake. He'll make more. Maybe not as crucial but he'll make more. That's part and parcel of what he's going through, learning to do the job.

"He's done remarkably well at the job and all of us, to a man, the whole dressing room, feels for him."

It was a cruel and fatal finish to Town's first term back in the Football League for five years, but there are bigger reasons than a painful case of butter fingers for the way Luton have blown their promotion bid.

The feeling has been for some time that it would not end in success, but it's the hope that kills you.

Now there's none, bar a mathematical miracle on the final day of the campaign.

Realistically, a relentless March of nothing but defeats is rarely the stuff of promotion dreams, while their season-long inability to put the ball in the back of the net has finally caught up with them.

At Roots Hall they only had to wait 70 seconds for Elliot Lee to squander their best chance, hitting the net stanchion with the goal gaping.

The Shrimpers' unlikely victory – after they had been ludicrously reduced to ten men in the 67th minute – moved them into the top three with automatic promotion now in their hands.

While Luton could theoretically still join them in League One next term, it would take a freak result next week against Stevenage, themselves guaranteed a place in the end of season shake-up.

Beds skipper Middlebrook signs Yorkshire deal

CRICKET

BY DAN PALMER
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

NEW Bedfordshire skipper James Middlebrook will miss the county's competitive opener against Hertfordshire today after being snapped up on a short-term deal by Yorkshire.

The all-rounder, who was released by Northamptonshire at the end of last season, was unveiled as the man to lead Beds' Minor Counties challenge this term but has been handed a shock chance back at County Championship level.

Middlebrook is a native of Yorkshire having been born in Leeds and the 37-year-old felt he could not turn down the chance to represent his home county again, after beginning his first class career with the White Rose between 1998 and 2001.

The batsman and right arm spinner is now set to feature in Yorkshire's County Championship Division One clash with Warwickshire, which is due to start at Headingley today. His chance comes because Yorkshire are without Adil Rashid – who is away with England in the West Indies.

The 27-year-old was left out of the squad for the first two tests but England rejected

Yorkshire's request for him to return home, opening the door for Middlebrook.

However, the captain will return to Bedfordshire duties when Rashid returns with Andy Reynoldson set to step in as skipper for today's Unicorns Knock-Out Trophy clash at Hertford CC.

"It has been surreal," said Middlebrook on his move to a club who won the County Championship last season.

"I wasn't expecting a call to come and play first-class cricket again and to get the call from Yorkshire was a shock.

"I'm excited and looking forward to my second debut with the club."

Soon after Lee erred, Cameron McGeehan fell awkwardly on his elbow and though he tried to play on bravely, with a suspected fracture, he was replaced by Shaun Whalley in the 20th minute.

Still said: "You know what? That's the story of our season, I'll be honest with you. I don't know why, it just is."

first half that Southend dominated – cutting back from the byline and then finding Lee with a sublime reverse pass to open up the hosts, but the forward's first touch was heavy and the chance was gone.

Before those small excuses to get excited for Town's travelling fans, Jake Cassidy was denied by a combination of Justham and the post.

The Town keeper was well placed to pluck both a Barry Corr header and a Cassidy drive out of the air.

A half-time team-talk did little to reverse the route of the traffic and Cassidy steered a Ben Coker cross just wide of the upright, Corr volleyed over and Adam Barrett did likewise with a header. There was half an hour to play by this point and with a Luton goal looking unlikely Lee departed for former Shrimper Luke Guttridge.

But their chances of a result were improved greatly in the 67th minute when Coker brought Whalley down as he ran through on goal.

After some baffling cautions for Town players, referee Iain Williamson excelled himself by dismissing the United man, though he was not the last defender. Still and skipper Steve McNulty both admitted afterwards that it was harsh.

But, for the first time in living memory, the visitors were on the right end of an official's howler.

Lady Luck wasn't on Town's side for long however, though the momentum did shift for a short period as the Hatters pushed for a winner but, inevitably, couldn't hit the net.

Justham had to dive low to keep out long range drives from Corr and Barrett. But then came the gaffe. It will be the stuff of nightmares for weeks to come.

The dreams, for this term at least, are dead.

Rovers book place in the play-offs with Aylesbury victory

FOOTBALL

BY NICK SMITH

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

A WIN yesterday at Aylesbury United was all Barton Rovers needed to secure a play-off spot in the Southern League Division One Central.

A first half goal was enough for Rovers as they won 1-0.

Paul Barnes found the net in the 17th minute and that lone goal was enough to secure Barton the final play off spot.

Barton's rivals for the berth, Rugby Town, lost 3-1 at home to second placed Royston Town, who Barton will meet in the play-off semi finals.

The clash will be played at Royston's Garden Walk ground on Tuesday evening as Barton look for promotion.

Aylesbury FC will face Bedworth United in the other semi-final.

In the Southern Premier Division, Dunstable Town's final game of the season saw them take a point against visiting Cambridge City.

The two sides went in at the break with the game tied at 0-0, with Dunstable having the better of the chances and even rattling the crossbar.

In the 70th minute, the deadlock was broken.

Tom Gardiner got his head on the end of a cross into the area and made no mistake from close range, finding the back of the net.

In the 88th minute, Dunstable hit back following a defensive error.

Cambridge goalkeeper Zac Barrett, who had pulled off a string of good saves to keep the hosts quiet, came out to punch clear.

However, he made little contact and his punch saw the ball cannon back off Gary Wharton for the equalising goal.

The mishap was enough to give The Blues a share of the spoils as the match ended 1-1.

Town have finished 14th after their first season at this level, and will face Barton in the league next season should Rovers be successful with their play-off campaign.

In the Spartan South Midlands Football League Premier Division, a goal either side of half time was enough to give Hadley a 2-0 win over AFC Dunstable.

In Division One, Crawley Green suffered an away day defeat as they went down 2-1 to Wodson Park.

There was victory in Division Two for Kent Athletic though, as they saw off visiting New Bradwell St Peter 2-1.

Elsewhere in Division Two, Totternhoe were beaten 2-1 on home turf by visitors Tring Corinthians.

The game between Ealing Town and The 61 FC (Luton) was postponed.

No blame for Justham as play-off bid all but dies

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

STEVE McNulty admitted that Luton's chances of a play-off place died with defeat to ten-man Southend United – but refused to lay any blame on goalkeeper Elliot Justham.

The young stopper let Michael Timlin's tame shot through his legs in the 81st minute in a game that Town could not afford to lose as they chased down Plymouth for the last spot in the top seven.

Even a draw would have given the Hatters hope for the final day of the season against Stevenage and while there is an outside mathematical chance of rescuing their season, the captain believes they have blown their chance.

Plymouth are three points ahead and their goal difference is better than Luton's by eight, meaning the Hatters would need a massive swing to creep above them with only one match left to come.

"I'm a realist," McNulty said, adding: "I think it has gone. Stevenage is going to be a tough game."

"They're in the play-offs themselves and they're not going to come and let the game be wide open."

"We'd have to win four or five nil. I'm not saying it is out of the question but it's going to be a really big ask."

"If you're a realist, if you're a betting man, you wouldn't bet on it, to be honest."

It was the cruellest of blows as Justham, who signed a new two-year deal on Thursday, was one of the few players to emerge with any credit from a March in which Luton lost every game to slip out of the top seven.

McNulty said: "It's the position he plays in. He makes a rick and it goes in and it's going to be highlighted, but it's not just him."

"As a back four we should have been pushed up more and been tighter to the man shooting. Before he'd even had the shot it should have been stopped at source."

"He's made a mistake, he'll hold his hands up, but he's come on leaps and bounds over the last 18 months."

"He's kept us in the game, made a few good saves, and he's kept us in games over the last few weeks, so he won't need much picking up."

"He's a big character and we'll all get around him, put our arms around him and he'll be fine. It's not just him, it could have been stopped at source."

Town will, barring a football miracle, have their fate of another year in League Two confirmed next week.

McNulty said: "If we don't make the play-offs we've got to dust ourselves down, become stronger as a group, better as players and as a club and start preparing for next season and hopefully have another crack at it next season."
